DETAILS OF LABELS

Esprit Parc National is a brand created in 2015 under which various products and services can be marketed in regions close to French national parks.

Organic farming is a method of agricultural production that aims to respect natural systems and cycles, maintain and improve the condition of the soil, water and air, the health of plants and animals, and the balance between them.

The Label Rouge is a national certification mark that allows you to identify products that are of a higher quality than similar products. This label has been in existence for nearly 60 years: in 1965, Landes chicken became the first product to carry the Label Rouge.

Farmers in the Bienvenue à la ferme network are committed to offering high-quality farm produce, providing their guests with a personalised and professional welcome in a well-maintained environment, and acting as ambassadors for sustainable and responsible agriculture rooted in the local terroir.

HaPy Saveurs is a collective brand for the Hautes-Pyrénées region, launched in 2015 by the Ambition Pyrénées association, which aims to promote local food products and strengthen short supply chains, from producer to consumer. It brings together restaurateurs, artisans and local retailers (around 100 professionals), promoting quality, economic fairness and the circular economy in the region.
